

EASTTOPICS.ONLINE MEDIA KIT

EASTTOPICS.ONLINE

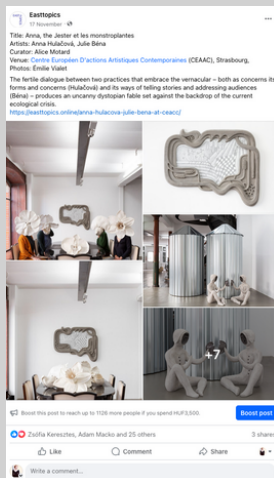

EASTTOPICS ONLINE is a magazine focused on contemporary art in the Eastern European region. By giving voice to cutting-edge personas in art and culture, the online magazine promotes a diverse range of artistic expression and creates new links between cultural creators and the public.

Content

Interviews

Every month Easttopics Online publishes an interview and portrait with a leading creative voice of our times, a curated selection of interviews with personalities from the fields of contemporary art.

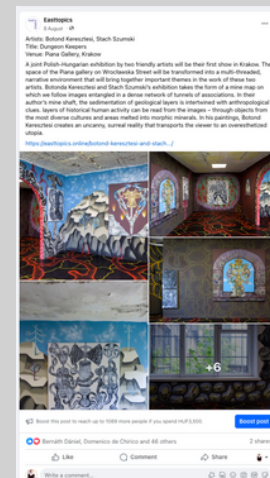

Weekly essentials

Legendary guide to contemporary art life in CEE region. Uprising representatives of art as well as art institutions and free spaces for contemporary approaches are displayed in various formats.

Curator's Table

Easttopics Online is asking five questions to young curators, covering a specific theme, concept, and their perspective on the city in which they reside.

Audience

Easttopics Online's dedicated audience includes all those who shape CEE's emerging and vibrant cultural scene. For them contemporary culture marks a lifestyle focus and even more a way of living and consuming. They are mostly young professionals working in creative industries and media or people that have special interests in these fields.

How the first art fair in Romania is bringing the industry together?

RAD Art Fair is an overdue collaborative initiative that strengthens the core of the Romanian art scene, offers visibility to its artists and galleries, and builds a base for the growth of a healthy national art market over the next decade. Easttopics spoke RAD Art Fair co-directors Catinca Tăbăcaru, owner of Catinca Tăbăcaru Gallery, and...

EAST CALL CURATORIAL RESIDENCY for emerging curators to gain a comprehensive insight in the Hungarian contemporary art scene

COMING SOON

curatorial residency

www.easttopics.com

MORE INFO

East Call is an intensive 2-week program that focuses on the status and practice of artists, contemporary curatorial conditions, institutional situations and the understanding of issues affecting contemporary art, with a focus on the roles and responsibilities of curators as mediators between audiences and artists, and researchers as theoretical transmitters of knowledge, interpretation and contextualization.

East Call aims to foster dialogue on issues surrounding curation and to interrogate what constitutes "the curatorial" in the Central Eastern European region. The East Call program focuses on open, horizontal and conversation-based transfers of knowledge and experience.

About

Fruzsina Kigyós, Róna Kopeczky, Alexandra Nagy

Easttopics launched in 2013, led by young art professionals based in Hungary and Serbia and dedicated to the promotion of the Eastern European contemporary art field. Working as a think tank for the Eastern European art communities, Easttopics is a genuinely interdisciplinary cooperative which goal is to draw the Eastern contemporary art field and the international art scene closer to each other. Easttopics website: www.easttopics.com

Beside our activities, the blog's main focus is the introduction of contemporary artists, art professionals, venues, exhibitions of the CEE region in order to generate greater public interest worldwide.

Easttopics Online website: www.easttopics.online

We seek to stimulate modes for networking, collaboration and presentation of work among art practitioners and to enable broader visibility and connections.
